

Prestige Inhome Care Palliative Care

Stay in the comfort of home,
with pride and dignity

At Prestige Inhome Care we understand the challenges of supporting a loved one with a life-limiting illness

Every day our experienced and respectful nurses and carers support clients in spending their last stages in the comfort of home, surrounded by the people and things they love most. Our approach to in-home palliative care is:

- Shared care facilitation

We work alongside your GP and palliative care teams - including Bethlehem, Cabrini, Eastern Palliative Care, Hospital in the Home, Palliative Care Australia, and South Eastern Palliative Care - to provide seamless care and support.

If you do not currently have a specialist community palliative care team, we will liaise on your behalf.

Every aspect of in-home palliative care is tailored to each client

- Flexible and personalised

Fulfilling a loved one's wish to spend the last stages of their life in their own home can be stressful, challenging and often confusing.

We take care of everything so you can focus on the things most important to you.

We create and provide tailored care, which is coordinated by your dedicated Prestige Inhome Care Case Manager in collaboration with your community palliative care team, ensuring your loved one's changing needs are met.

- Client centred care

It is more comforting and dignifying to receive individualised care on a one-to-one basis in the comfort and familiarity of home, rather than be one of many patients in the more clinical hospital environment.

- Supporting family and loved ones

During such a difficult time, an important part of palliative care is supporting family and loved ones with house work, meal preparation and other domestic duties.

We aim to remove the stress felt by family and loved ones, so they are able to spend meaningful time together.

Who needs palliative care?

Palliative care can benefit anyone with a life-limiting illness, including cancer, motor neurone disease (MND), heart or lung disease or other progressive illnesses.
